DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1, 3 and 6-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by US006937304B2 (304). See figures 7B and 7C and corresponding specification, the source [133], the drain [135] and photo-reflect layer [149] are formed simultaneously [see second full paragraph in column 10, they are form from chrome.] 119a is the transparent electrode. 125 is the capacitor electrode.

Per claim 1, 304 teaches a manufacturing method comprising: forming a first conductive layer on a substrate; defining the first conductive layer to form a gate [figure 7A, 132]; forming a dielectric layer thereon [143]; forming a channel over the gate [134]; forming a photo-resist block [ohmic contact 147]; forming a second conductive layer [see second full paragraph in column 10, they are form from chrome.]; defining the second conductive to form a source and a drain over the gate meanwhile, forming a photo-reflective layer on the photo-resist block [see figure 7C]; forming a protection layer thereon [151]; defining the protection layer, forming a first opening on the drain allowing part of the drain to be exposed, and forming a second opening on the photo-reflective layer allowing part of the photo-reflective layer to be exposed [153,157]; and forming a transparent electrode electrically connected to the drain and the photo-reflective layer via the first and the second opening [119a].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2871

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 2, 4-5, and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over 366 in view of 304.

304 teaches the claimed invention except glass substrate and using positive photo-resist on the capacitor electrode. However, it was well known to use glass as a substrate material for its high transparency and pattern conductive layer using positive photo-resist to decrease manufacturing costs. Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention combine the well known glass substrate and positive photo-resist with 304.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the pending claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
